

Gables Building Totals Climb

Despite building standstills in other parts of South Florida, Coral Gables is building more this year than it did in 1959.

For the first eight months of 1960, city building valuations were far below similar 1959 figures for corresponding periods.

Ranging anywhere from $763,000 in January to $2 million in February below last year's buildings, the gap closed slowly during the first eight months of 1960 to September when the 1960 total stood above the 1959 total figure.

UM Building Helped

But it took an expensive University of Miami building and apartment houses to do it.

Last month permits were taken out for three apartment buildings with a total of 43 units valued at $446,190.

A permit also was issued last month for a $134,000 University of Miami School of Music building to be constructed at 5501 San Amaro Dr.

One apartment building, a 33-unit, five-story structure is being built by Robert Othling at 650 Coral Way. It is valued at $390,000. Contractor is P. J. Goodwin.

Two Apartments

The other two apartments, both two stories, are being constructed at 700 South Dixie Hwy. and 43 Alhambra Cir. The South Dixie Hwy. apartment has four units and is valued at $25,690. The other apartment is six units and valued at $30,500.

Other building permits were issued during September for 11 additions, 10 residences, three alterations, and two pools.

Going into September, the 1960 figures totaled $9,508,840, compared to the $9,593,303 in 1959.

Jumped Ahead

However, with the addition of the September figures to those of the previous eight months, the 1960 figures jumped ahead by $125,816.

The September 1960 permit figure was $1,128,122, which ran the yearly total to $10,636,962. The 1959 total though September is $10,511,146.

Included in 1960 building permit figures were permits issued for 117 residences, 15 apartments with 227 units, 17 offices, seven duplexes, 44 pools, 28 alterations, 187 additions, three service stations and three stores with 12 units.

Motel Suit Holds Back Pool Permit

There will be no swimming pool for the Atlantic Court Apartments, 750 South Dixie Hwy.—at least until after a suit pending against the apartment by City of Coral Gables is settled.

It was made plain to owners of the apartment who appealed to the Commission for a swimming pool between the apartments and the highway right of way.

Approximately 10 property owners surrounding the apartment voiced objections to the pool which they said would entice the apartment to operate even more as a motel.

Code Prohibits

Coral Gables zoning codes prohibit the erection of a pool on the street side of a building.

Atlantic Court owner C. F. Otto said as far as he knows his apartment is operating as an apartment.

He added he doesn't know what he must do to keep residents from moving out in a night or two except build a pool. He said renters of his rooms do not want to stay more than a fortnight because of the highway traffic noise and the transient element on the highway.

The commission offered to review the pool petition following settlement of the suit.

Suit Filed

A suit has been filed against Atlantic Court, Dixie Court and Riviera Court apartments by City of Coral Gables for operating and advertising as motels.

The city's action followed notice by South Dixie Hwy. residents to the city that the apartments are operating as motels.

In other action, the commission

Congregational Church Looted Of $200 In Cash

Coral Gables Congregational Church, 3010 DeSota Ave., was broken into Sunday night, Oct. 9, with $200 in cash taken.

According to the Reverend Howard Huntzicker, entry into the church was gained through an office window in the east side of the building.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK was highlighted in Coral Gables Monday afternoon by a parade of eight fire trucks, including this vintage 1927 La France pumper. Aboard the truck were five firemen, dressed as clowns, who hatched a barrel full of antics as they rode down Gables' streets. The caravan of trucks, their sirens howling, rolled down Biltmore Way, on to Miracle Mile and then up Ponce de Leon Blvd. Though the parade might have seemed funny to some, it was serious business to the Gables' fire crew.

600 Members Is Target Of Chamber

Six hundred Coral Gables business and professional men will be the target of a gigantic stock-selling scheme next Tuesday, Oct. 18. The stock, called Coral Gables Preferred, will be offered as a gilt edged investment which pays dividends every day of the year.

A hundred of the city's most respected business men will act as salesmen. The blue-chip opportunity they offer is membership in the Chamber of Commerce.

After a withering barrage of mailing pieces pointing out the reasons why this important civic organization deserves full support, a one-day whirlwind campaign of personal calls will wind up the Chamber's membership drive.

Byron M. Nelson, chairman of the Membership Committee, has organized his shock troops into four divisions. The goal is 200 additional members for the Chamber.

Bernie Blanck, President of the Chamber, points out that the period of economic hesitation in which we now find ourselves calls for aggressive support of the Chamber's program.

"Don't let the Chamber members continue to pay your community rent," is his plea to non-members.

Home Is A Good Place To Practice Fire Safety

By RAYMOND LANG

What causes a fire?

What is the one main factor that snuffed out the lives of five Gableites last year . . . hopelessly caught in a fire?

And what really ignited 910 fires in the past three years in Coral Gables?

These are questions to reflect on during Fire Prevention Week.

It's more than just the violent combination of fuel, heat and oxygen. It's the "human element" and "plain, old carelessness."

Human Element Blamed

"If we could eliminate the human element," pointed out Fire Chief Paul Matheson, "we'd have a lot less fires and a lot less suffering."

"It all boils down to this . . . it's an individual responsibility. And if the homeowner does not accept the responsibility, then he's not doing his part as a good citizen."

As Chief Matheson spoke, it was perhaps the approaching winter season with the specter of fire greater than ever that made him stress the individual's responsibility.

The University of Miami Friday, Oct. 14, will entertain the Duke and Duchess of Veragua at a luncheon at the Riviera Country Club, after which they will visit the campus and meet with Latin students and faculty at the Faculty Club.

In the evening they will witness the Miami-University of South Carolina football game.

Dr. C. Doren Tharp, vice president and dean of faculties, will preside at the luncheon and will present the university's Cross of the Order of Merit to the Duke. Luncheon guests will include senior officials and faculty members of the university and their wives.

Cristobal Colon, a direct descendant of Christopher Columbus, is the 17th duke of Veragua. He also holds the title of Grand Admiral of Castile.

Audit Report Challenged By Doctors' Director

By EDWIN KNIGHT

The yes-no question of whether Doctors' Hospital meets the requirements of a tax exempt medical institution continued this week.

The hospital, the top subject of discussion here last week because of a spot audit showing the medical institution allegedly does not meet the requirements exempting it from paying city ad valorem taxes, took issue with the audit and emphatically replied that it does meet the requirements.

Hospital Director Mary Reeder told The Times this week that figures used in the report were deceiving.

She said that at least one-third of the hospital's net operating profit goes for charity, research and community welfare.

Outlines Expenditures

"Of the hospital's net operating profit of $373,417 since the last of 1957," Mrs. Reeder said, "at least $122,923 went for charity and research and the remaining $250,000 went to the hospital's betterment."

The medical institution had a

Coral Gables Tax Bills Out Friday

A total of 35,000 1960 real and personal property tax bills will be mailed this Friday, Oct. 14, representing $1,755,243 in real property and $313,483 in personal property taxes to Coral Gables property owners.

According to Coral Gables Finance Director Kenneth Allyn, the 1960 figures compare with 1959 real taxes of $1,725,220 and personal property taxes of $297,985.

Discounts allowed are 4 percent if paid in November, 3 percent if paid in December, 2 percent if paid in January and 1 percent if paid in February.

Both taxes become delinquent April 1, with a 3 percent penalty levied until the lien is sold for non-payment.

Allyn added that all commercial and residential waste collection fees are now considered a special assessment. They will be treated as any local improvement lien.

This procedure became effective March 17, 1960, thereby making waste collection fees a lien against the property instead of as formerly against the property owner who was held liable for payment.

Discussions of whether Doctors' Hospital meets the requirements of a tax exempt medical institution continued this week.

total of $5,519,556 in income during the three-year period. But $4,951,118 of that amount went for direct charges and expenses, she said.

There were other charges which brought the hospital's net operating profit to $373,417, Mrs. Reeder said.

A founder of the hospital, Mrs. Reeder said, "actually, everything above hospital expenses goes toward educational, scientific and charitable work."

"If the city wants to sacrifice this charity and research for the tax dollar, then it is turning away a fine medical institution."

Plan To Prove Case

"We have a case and we plan to prove to the city next July that we are operating as a tax exempt institution."

Next July, when the city commission sits as a Board of Equalization, the whole matter will be taken up, the commission decided last week at an inquiry.

The tax roll, as submitted by the city tax assessor, is approved

Donna's Cost To Gables Is $65,596

Hurricane Donna, which tore through South Florida the night of Sept. 9, cost Coral Gables an estimated $65,596.88, City Manager L. W. (Jimmy) Robinson Jr. determined this week.

Robinson had estimated removal costs at $65,000 immediately after the storm.

The loss represents the amount of money it took Coral Gables in man hours and trucks to clean up after the worst hurricane, damagewise, in Florida's history.

Robinson said it took 2383 hired trucks loads and 2253 loads by City of Coral Gables vehicles to haul away the debris caused by the hurricane. A total of 4636 loads of trash, weighing a total of 11,422,290 pounds were needed to clean up the city.

Water Rates Fight Led By S. Miami

South Miami's bid for lower water rates was turned down by the Metro Commission prior to the freezing of all Consumers Water Company rates Tuesday.

The Commission, acting on advice of its Water Committee, set uniform rates for all areas served by Consumers Water Company even though South Miami has a suit pending against it because it set its own water rates two years ago.

South Miami set its rates at $1.40 for the first 500 cubic feet of water and was promptly sued by the water company.

Injunction Ordered

The utility received an injunction putting the water rates back to $1.50. The suit never has been settled.

But former South Miami city attorney Hughlan Long argued Tuesday that if the suit is settled in South Miami's favor, the rates will be frozen and the city will have no recourse but to wait until the two-year freezing period is over.

Lower rates were given county residents served by Consumers, the largest privately owned water company in Dade County.

County rates were cut from $1.80 to $1.50, bringing the savings to county residents to an estimated $80,000 a year. The new rates will go into effect in several weeks following Metro acquisition of the company.

This is the first cut of Consumers' rates in the 32 years that the utility has been in business.

their portable oil heaters taken from storage and overload electrical outlets with Christmas tree lights. And this presents fire hazards.

"Of course, we've got laws and ordinances," Chief Matheson said, "and the fire department enforces them, not to restrict people but to make it safe for everyone."

Fire Inspector Phil Sistik stressed that the chief cause of fires is "carelessness, plain old carelessness."

Sistik gave an example. "A mother is in her kitchen and she's going to make french fried potatoes. And she fills a deep fryer with grease and then goes away."

Sistik pointed out that there are many different ways a fire can carelessly be started. Overloading electrical outlets, and negligent handling of cigarettes are two chief causes.

Complacency is just as bad as carelessness, believes Chief Matheson.

"A lot of people in Coral Gables have a feeling of complacency. They feel that because they live in a CBS home, it's safe from fire."

"Nothing could be farther from the truth. 95 per cent of home fires are due to the contents of the home."

Chief Matheson is sure the new, $200,000 fire station due to be completed Dec. 1 at Riviera Dr. and O.S. Dixie Hwy., will help combat fires.

But, ironically, the department knows that their biggest enemy will be "the human element" with its cohort, "plain, old carelessness."

Homes Looted Of $8900 By Gables Cat Burglar

What police suspect as a professional cat burglar struck again at two Coral Gables homes during the week with an estimated $8900 in jewels and cash taken during the two break-ins.

Although Coral Gables police still have no leads in the case, they do know the burglar's method of operation and habits.

So far, he has hit about eight Coral Gables homes during the past six months. He may walk into a bedroom where residents are sleeping to commit his handiwork and he usually has something to eat before he leaves the premises.

In most of his jobs he hits the homes of the wealthy and is uncanny in his knowledge of where valuables are kept.

Tuesday night, Oct. 4, he hit the home of Mrs. Robert Howard, 4014 Granada, where he entered the home through an unlocked south door and left with $500 in $100 bills.

While he was in the home he entered the bedroom where Mrs. Howard was sleeping, took a suitcase, ransacked the suitcase in the living room and went through Mrs. Howard's purse where he found the money.

He left a flashlight, though, on a living room table.

It's 3 In A Row For Gables Team

The Velda Dairies, Coral Gables entry in the 95-pound division of the Inter-City Athletic Conference football league, has now won its third straight victory against no defeats.

Last Saturday the team defeated the South Miami entry by a score of 13 to 7. Joe Fernandez scored the winning touchdown on an end run, just as the clock ran out.

The Jaycee-sponsored 115-pound team ran roughshod over North Miami, winning by a score of 25 to 0.

After winning its opener, the PBA-sponsored unlimited weight entry was defeated last Saturday by South Miami, by a score of 25 to 12.

All three teams will see league action again this week.

South Miami Construction In A Slump

South Miami building permit valuations continued to slide during September, putting 1960 total figures far below the first nine months of 1959.

The September 1960, valuations total was $44,525 less than the corresponding period last year and included only 44 items, including three residences, repairs and a new roof for Pullman's Furniture, 6450 South Dixie Hwy. and miscellaneous other items.

The September, 1960, building permit valuations total was $68,950, putting the 1960 total figure at $1,662,396. The total for the first nine months of 1959 was $2,171,643.

Residence building permits were taken out by C. J. Stoker, 6461 SW 74th St., $12,500; M. Roberts, 6241 SW 58th St., $12,000 and M. Roberts, 6231 SW 58th St., $14,000.

at that time. Any citizen or institution challenging a tax assessment may be heard by the Board of Equalization.

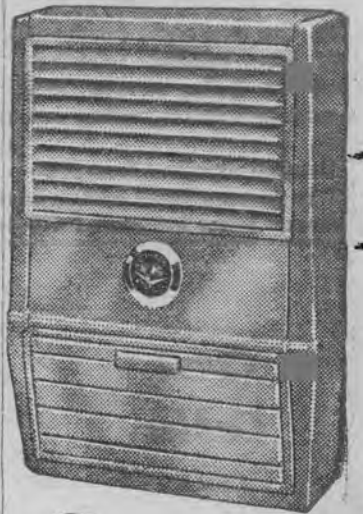

This is the second time in two years that the hospital's tax exempt status has come before the city commission.

In 1958 City Tax Assessor Thomas C. Blount pointed out to the City Commission that he did not think the hospital should be tax exempt. On advice of City Attorney Ted Semple, the commission overruled Blount and granted the exemption.

The question arose again recently by Bernard Weksler, a Coral Gables attorney who is seeking to require charitable institutions to live up to state laws covering tax exemptions.

Cavaliers Ranked First Among County Debaters

By LESLIE GROSS

Gables High was host to Hialeah, Miami Edison, Miami Jackson, Miami Beach, and Southwest High Schools in a county-wide debate Oct. 6. The program planning was done by Gables students, Bill Vanderbilt and Steve Mizell.

Throughout the course of the tournament, Gables won 35 debates and lost 11, for an overwhelming first place among the county's schools.

A 22-year-old youth, Wofford Donahoo, 608 Alcazar Ave., received a $50 fine in Metro Court Sept. 30 for running a stop sign. Donahoo was slapped with a $100 fine on a similar charge a few days before the Sept. 30 ruling.

Want A Gables Job? Test, More Tests Await

Truck driving, swimming, eye tests and speed typing are but a few of the practical know-how tests that face job applicants for the City of Coral Gables.

The testing of prospective employees for the city falls under the wing of the personnel department, headed by Robert Harrison. Here, the would-be ty. ts, clerks, firemen and policemen face a battery of written examinations and "doing" tests.

In the clerical department, tests are based on the position open and the type of work the applicant will be doing. These tests, all of which are taken against time, involve the work-in of simple arithmetic problems, spelling, vocabulary, typing and taking shorthand. If the position requires the use of office machines, the job seeker is tested on knowledge of their operation.

Physical Fitness

Members of the protective organizations, such as the police and fire departments, are tested in a different manner. Besides the written examinations, the men are tested on their physical fitness and agility. The physical performance tests are comprised of distance swimming, running, jumping and other field events, all completed in prescribed time limits.

These men are also given a test to see whether they have the aptitude for police work or fire fighting. When promotion time comes around, the men are subject to more tests in law enforcement practices and supervision.

In the case of applicants for positions driving city vehicles, the testing program again varies. Here the men are tested with a device called the telebinocular. The telebinocular checks the eyesight of the applicant to see if he has any weakness that might need correcting. This device is used by city governments throughout the country.

Driving Test

After the test is given, the man is sent to the city motor pool, where he must take a driving test.

This test is designed to check the applicants' driving habits in actual traffic conditions. During the tests drivers are watched for safety and driving habits. They are then checked on parking and maneuvering of the vehicle. If the driver measures up to the standards of the test and has no record of serious traffic violations, he is subject for employment.

All the City employees have a 6-month probation period to serve during which time they must prove themselves in their employment.

The program has worked out very well since it has been established. It is the aim of the Personnel Director to work for enlargement of the testing program and general improvement of the City's employment situation.

Help Coming For Library

South Miami's nine month old library, which has grown faster than expected, is going to get more clerical help.

South Miami Council recently authorized another full-time clerk-typist to help in the library's bookkeeping work.

The extra help was recommended by Frank B. Sessa, director of downtown Miami's library which operates the South Miami library.

In a letter to Council, Sessa said that the South Miami (library) operation must be expanded if the same level of service is to be maintained.

"For a circulation of 29,082 books in slightly less than six months," Sessa said, "the present staff of one librarian, one clerk and one half time page is woefully inadequate."

Sessa also recommended that South Miami buy for the library another card catalog and more shelving for books.

4000 Books

Opened Jan. 26, 1960, the library has slightly more than 4000 books.

More books are needed for the library which has circulated about three times as many books as had been anticipated by this time.

New Richards Opens Today

Six months ago Richards Cutler Ridge store was just a sketch on a blueprint. Today, majestically modern and spacious, sprawling over 70,000 square feet of space, it is open for business.

This beautiful suburban branch, which increases the growing Richards family to four, boasts the distinction of being the largest department store south of Coral Gables and the first major department store between Miami and Key West.

Located in the south end of the mushrooming Cutler Ridge Regional Shopping Center, Richards southern-most branch is molded along ultra-modern lines.

The rambling two-story structure is unusual in that it is made of pre-cast columns and beams.

Designed by nationally known architect Meyer Katzman, whose fame extends from Florida to Southern California, Richards is an interesting study in architecture and color, from the outside as well as the inside.

Directly in front of the main entrance, set in an island of concrete and flanked by a profusion of tropical foliage, lies a Brilliant lighting will flood the store from the 2343 lamps in picturesque pool that is a bubbling kaleidoscope of color.

The exterior, with its imposing facade, is typical of South Florida's modern architecture.

The handsome main entrance of the building is a subtle contrast of color. A subdued beige shadowbox effect of block, outlined in white, is supported by square terra-cotta pillars.

Entrances and exits to Richards can be gained through multiple glass doors at the front of the shopping area, the south side and in the rear facing the parking area. An additional doorway on the north side, toward the center of the building opens directly onto the mall, adjacent to the side entrance of W. T. Grant.

Once inside, customers and onlookers alike will be warmed by a bevy of friendly colors ranging from greens and yellows to blues and lilacs.

At the same time, they will be cooled by an elaborate system of air-conditioning which pumps, via two machines, a total capacity of 230 tons of cool air. The ceiling and cove. The intricate fixtures alone contain 829 lamps.

Hanging from the dropped ceiling in scattered locations are some half dozen colorful murals—striking attention-getters all—depicting various aspects of suburbia.

Like its downtown and 163rd Street counterparts, the Cutler Ridge branch will be completely stocked in merchandise that is the finest in quality, value, assortment and fashion.

The new Richards will house a complete line of ready-to-wear for men, women, children and infants. It has a Scout department for boys and girls; accessory divisions including handbags, jewelry, hosiery, neckwear and gloves; a candy department; stationery and notion counters; records; a gift department containing china, silverware and lamps; major and minor applications departments; draperies; domestic; sewing machines; piece goods and toys.

Nearly 20 percent of the 58,000 square feet of selling space is devoted to furniture, bedding and carpeting.

Upon entering the magnificent new building, customers will find all departments readily accessible. They will find, too, that 80 percent of the merchandise is available for easy customer selection and convenience.

A steady flow of merchandise will stream into the Cutler Ridge store from Richards central warehouse where it will be transported by trailer truck three times daily.

Time For Togetherness

It was on July 4, 1776 that Ben Franklin implored his vacillating fellow revolutionists to hang together if they did not wish to hang separately later.

At stake were the careers, the fortunes — the very necks — of those daring men who led what was largely an economic revolt against Great Britain.

It is difficult to draw a comparable parallel between the situation confronting the founding fathers and that in peaceful Coral Gables today.

Only the personal fortunes and economic well being of the community hang in the balance here.

But, to paraphrase what Franklin said, if the merchants of this town do not get together in a common cause, everyone will suffer separate economic loss.

The "enemy" in this instance is competition.

There are many ways to meet this competition.

One way is to strive individually to improve service, promotion, products, delivery, etc.

Another is to join with others in a cooperative program.

This could mean forming a new organization or joining existing organizations.

The Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce is an existing organization. The Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber is another.

Only last week, the Chamber launched its annual membership drive.

If you are a business or professional man and do not already belong, this is an excellent time to reappraise your status in the community.

The Chamber is already doing much for the community, with or without your individual support.

A larger membership would provide more funds, talent and manpower to meet the economic challenges now confronting Coral Gables.

Look Before Leaping

Plans are afoot to create a unified countywide bus system to serve the people of Dade County.

That in itself appears — on the surface at least — to be a worthwhile undertaking.

But for Coral Gables, with an existing municipal system serving both regular bus riders and school age children denied bus service by the County School Board, the plan may not be beneficial.

All the contracts and agreements in the world might not prevent a serious change in this fine system once the authority for its operation rested in some other area of government.

We can only point to previous experience in turning over other services to Metro, traffic control, for instance, to show what can happen.

The Coral Gables City Commission should go into the matter very seriously before coming up with any decision to sell out.

The alleged $1 per capita deficit in operation should be regarded in the light that this deficit could be wiped out simply by converting to diesel operation — something another operator would be almost certain to do anyway.

Perhaps a cooperative setup between the Coral Gables system and any other system that might be set up would work out to the best interest of the city.

Roundup

KNIGHT

IT WAS JUST AN item in the daily papers. Water rates are uninteresting to most people — so many residents didn't even bother to read the news story.

It said, in effect, that Metro had frozen the rates of water supplied by Consumers Water Company to Coral Gables, South Miami and county areas near these two cities.

TO MANY SOUTH MIAMIANS and one man in particular the news story had a terrific impact. It meant the end of a two-year struggle between a small city and a powerful utility.

It may well mean the end of a lawsuit brought by the water company against South Miami that has never been decided.

But aside from all this, it means that the work of that city — and one man in particular — to save its citizens on the price of water has gone down the drain.

THE IRONY OF IT ALL is that South Miami didn't save money on the price of water, but the county residents did as a result of the bitter fight between the water company and one South Miamian, Hughlan Long.

Here is that story brought up to date:

In the spring of 1958 many of South Miami's citizens complained to the City Council that water rates were too high. The Council, looking into the matter, asked for a water company representative to give them an answer.

THE ANSWER CAME alright. H. Edward Keating, president of Consumers Water Company explained to Council that the bills were high because of poor meter reading. The result was that meters showed water used for several months but not read during those months.

Later in the spring, the Council authorized a spot audit of the company's books. Long was serving as South Miami's city attorney at the time.

LONG ARRANGED for the CPA firm of Morgan, A. G. and Barrs to audit the books. The job was done.

The spot audit showed that Consumers was using customer's deposits and customer's funds for water main extensions as assets. These, the audit brought out, decreased the rate of return to the water company.

The audit further said that if Consumers had included in its assets only those funds specifically belonging to the water company, the rate of return would have been approximately 10 percent in 1957 and 14 percent in 1956.

BOTH SOUTH MIAMI and Consumers, in previous franchise negotiating, had set six percent as a fair rate of return to the water company.

The Council was furious at hearing this.

Advised by Long, the Council gave the water company about six weeks to show cause why the city's water rate should not be reduced.

Keating, the water company president, returned to the Council several weeks later and told councilmen the answer to the audit could not be gathered in that length of time.

AS A RESULT, CONSUMERS did not make the deadline.

Shortly afterward, South Miami held a public hearing prior to setting its own water rates.

South Miami then set the rates under a state statute stipulating a municipality has the right to set water rates giving a water company what the city considered a fair rate of return.

The new rates were set at $1.40 for water consumption up to 500 cubic feet and two cents thereafter for each 100 cubic feet to 600 cubic feet.

THE FORMER RATES had been $1.50 for water consumption up to 500 cubic feet.

Consumers Water Company officials termed the act "confiscatory" and filed a suit against the city.

Circuit Judge John W. Prunty granted Consumers an injunction preventing the new rates from going into effect.

Late in the year, there were three weeks and over 1500 pages of testimony in the suit hearings before Frank Kelly, a master who had been appointed by Judge Prunty to hear the case.

COUNSEL FOR THE WATER company was the legal firm of Scott, McCarthy, Preston, Steel and Gilleland, one of the biggest law firms in Miami.

Defending South Miami — yes, you guessed it — Hughlan Long. He battled the water company by himself during the entire trial.

The trial was concluded early in 1959.

Since that time no recommendation has come from Kelly to Judge Prunty.

WHEN METRO LAST MONTH passed on first reading an ordinance freezing the rates of Consumers Water Company customers, it was Long who appealed to the County Commission to postpone the freezing until he had explained the Consumers-South Miami suit to the commission and the Metro Water Committee.

Long appealed for South Miami's rates to be $1.40. The committee said no. Long then asked for the County's rates to be lowered to $1.50, the price charged South Miami and Coral Gables. The committee recommended this to the Metro Commission.

THIS IS WHY Consumers rates were set at $1.50 for all customers. And this is why county customers benefited from the legal work of Hughlan Long. The county profited by South Miami's setting of its own rates. And South Miami's rates are still unchanged.

Baptist Hospital Near Complete But Lacks $'s

The 304 bed Baptist Hospital in South Miami is nearly ready to open its doors for the acceptance of patients, but it is found that the last fund-raising campaign fell about $900,000 short of the $5.5 million goal.

Some of this money has been made available through Baptists and Baptist church groups. It is hoped that payment of pledges made in the 1957 campaign will make-up more of the money needed.

It is necessary for the five-story hospital to have a working capital of $300,000 cash on hand prior to the opening date. The tentative opening date for the acceptance of patients is Nov. 21.

There is a current fund-raising campaign designed to raise $450,000 to $500,000 during October. This amount is absolutely necessary for the proper function of the hospital.

The land, surface clearing and landscaping were donated. Funds are available to finish construction and provide portions of the furnishings and equipment. The additional $900,000 is needed immediately for the opening.

For those wishing to donate to the campaign, all checks should be made payable to "Baptist Hospital of Miami, Inc." Address of the Baptist Hospital headquarters is Baptist Hospital of Miami, Inc., 1324 West Flagler St., Miami 35, Fla.

Baptist Motorcade Planned To Deland

Approximately 20 students of the University of Miami are planning to attend the Florida Baptist Convention which will be held Oct. 21-22 at Stetson University, in Deland.

Alton Harpe, director of the Baptist Student Union on the UM campus, and Mrs. Harpe will chaperone the group who will make the drive over in private cars.

'Cane Victims Aided By B'nai B'rith

B'nai B'rith Women of Coral Gables shared the joys of the New Year as they sent gifts of linens to the hurricane-stricken residents of Marathon.

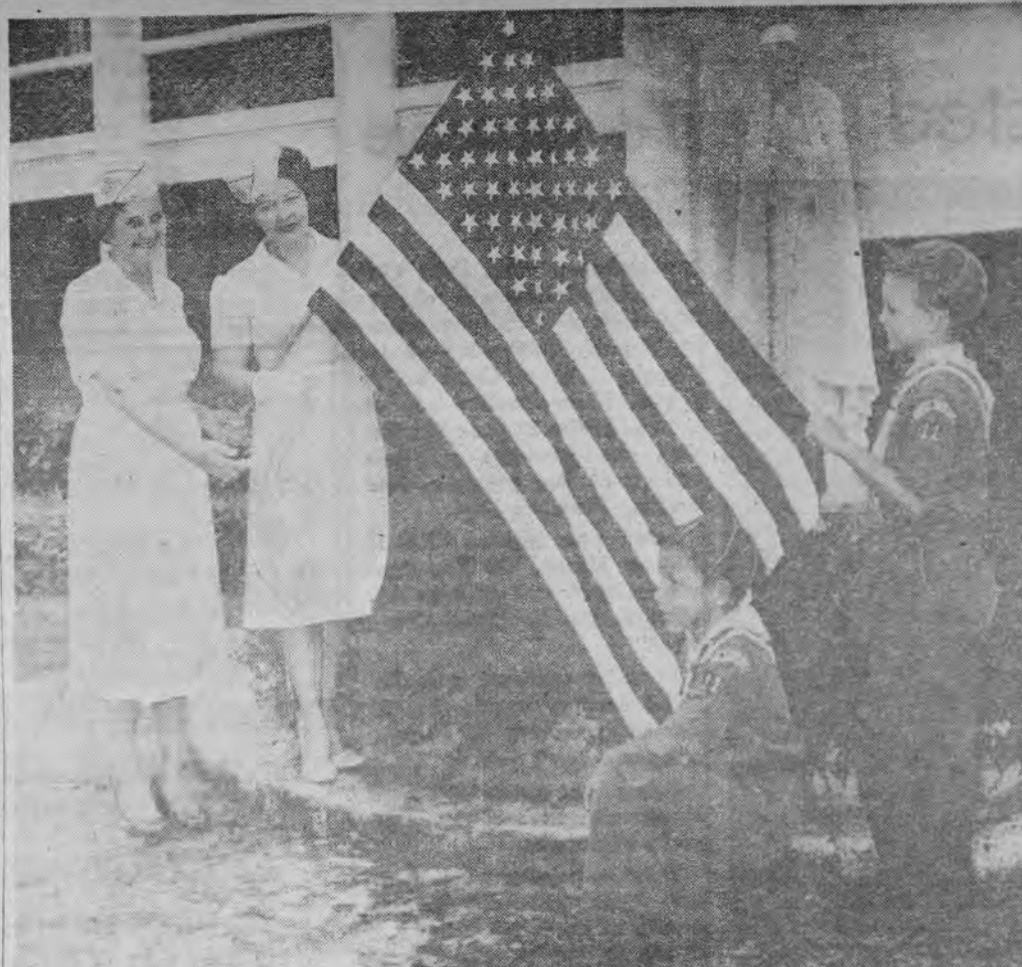

Mrs. Sidney Suss, past president of the chapter, started the ball rolling with a phone call to President Mrs. Irving Matlin. The idea of aid was taken before a committee meeting. A check with the Red Cross disclosed the desperate situation in Marathon.

Once the call went out to the three Bowling Leagues of the chapter, the women came bearing sheets, cases, towels, pillows and blankets.

After the next processes of sorting and packing the linens will arrive in Marathon by truck. George Dubrell, a member there, will distribute the linens.

Working on the committee that developed the aid program were Mrs. Matlin, Mrs. Frank Smulson, program chairman and Mrs. David Sachs, civic and community service chairman.

Add frozen lychees, peeled and pitted, and thawed, to lime flavored gelatin, place in individual molds, chill and serve with whipped cream topping.

"What did Mrs. J. Forrest Diehl do on her trip to Europe this summer? Why visit the flower shows of course. Retiring first vice president of the Coral Gables Garden Club and an accredited flower show judge, Mildred Diehl first attended the orchid show in London in early May, and then the Chelsea Flower Show, also in London, so huge it takes seven tents to house the entries.

"I saw sweetpeas, the most beautiful, with foot-long stems," she said. It was Mr. and Mrs. Diehl's first trip abroad. They took in the Passion Play at Oberammergau and visited the stadium in Rome, place of the Olympic contest but returned home in time to see it via TV and enjoyed it more. "We were so homesick for Coral Gables and home that we took a jet home," Mildred said.

Cecil Shouse who entered Randolph-Macon College for Women, Lynchburg, Va., on Sept. 12, writes her mother Tinsley (Ms. John Felix) Shouse, 2718 Alhambra Cir., that "my laundry comes back 'folded' of all things" Tinsley says, "she'll learn not to expect blouses and skirts on hangers with nary a fold or wrinkle." Cecil is majoring in history and says that her room-mate is from Houston, Texas. Also at Randolph-Macon from the Gables are Patricia Kehoe and Carolyn Butler.

Meri (Mrs. Thomas W.) Hegler, 12855 SW 81st Ave., takes time out from looking after her 10-week-old son, to handle publicity for the Coco Plum Women's Club. Meri does a good job, she knows deadlines, for she used to be a reporter herself. As to newcomer, Johnathan Thorn Hegler, known as "J. T.," he has a sister, Christina, who become very grown up this fall. At 6 years of age she entered the first grade at Palmetto Elementary School.

74 Years A Reporter

"Mrs. Lynda Lee Bryan, the nation's oldest reporter will be honored Friday, Oct. 21 after 74 years of reporting." The above quote is the opening sentence from a copy of an associated Press story about the 88-year-old Talbotton, Ga., writer who had her first newspaper copy published at the age of 14.

Mrs. Bryan is the aunt of Miss Jean Lee, of the Sottile Baking Firm who was recently transferred from Coral Gables to the company's Pan American Bank, Miami. Jean says her Aunt Lynda who is also the town's librarian, is very alert and was here last year when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lee of 1632 SW 12th St. and members of the First Presbyterian Church of Coral Gables for the past 25 years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Bryan will be honored at the "Talbotton Homecoming in Honor of Mrs. Bryan" sponsored by the Talbotton Lions Club in cooperation of the people of Talbot County and the affair is expected to be the largest event ever held in Talbotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Fondren and their son Gary will motor to New Orleans over the Thanksgiving Day holiday to visit their daughter, and sister, Mona Tel who is a freshman at Sophia Newcomb College for Women, New Orleans. Gary, who has entered the University of Miami has just finished a four-year tour of duty with the United States Air Force. He was stationed almost all of the time in London and Africa. This will be the first time he will have seen his sister, since she visited him two years ago in London when, with her parents, she made a trip abroad.

Revival Scheduled

The Rev. Ray Finklea, pastor of the Southwest Methodist Church, 6700 SW 38th St., announces a revival will be held in the newly air conditioned and heated church the week of Oct. 23-28. Sunday services are at 7:45 p.m. Sunday School at 11 a.m.

KKG Fraternity Is 90 Years Old

Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae of Miami will observe the fraternity's Founders Day Saturday at a noon luncheon at the County Club of Coral Gables. K.K.G. is celebrating its 90th year.

There will be presentations of awards, a skit and a reception welcoming new Delta Kappa pledges, the fraternity's chapter at the University of Miami.

Betty Batcheller Brown will be toast mistress at the luncheon program; Carol Engles Harmon will give the welcome. Betty Snively Poor will present the guests; Elizabeth Ballard Dupuis will present the awards.

To Present Skit

Isable Hanson Matthews and Virginia Dodge McDougal will put on the skit and the active chapter will give the group singing with Margaret Turner Fiske at the piano. Doris Page Turner will be responsible for the decorations and over all chairmen are Ethel Kroger Beckman and Joy Clarke Anderson.

Kappa Kappa Gamma initiated the first council form of government to women's fraternities. They were the first to publish a national magazine, first to found a Panhellenic Convention and first to go International in scope.

The Miami group was formed in 1925 from new resident Kappas in the area. Their express purpose was to found a chapter at the then budding University of Miami.

Mostly Gablettes

Its founders were mostly Coral Gables women, and it became the first chartered women's group on campus, Lambda Phi, organized in 1926. In 1938, the Delta Gamma Chapter of K.K.G. was installed on campus.

They are now a part and parcel of the new Panhellenic Building, named the Mary B. Merritt in honor of the first Dean of Women who was appointed in 1926 and served through 1955.

Kappas aims are high and her sisterhood is strong. They feel that sororities stimulate and promote high scholastic and cultural living in their chapters. They teach girls to assume a responsibility toward interests in their group; to be conservative in dress, and speech and to learn to develop through participation in all college has to offer.

Kappas may take a bow, Judy Eller of Delta Kappa Chapter, and member of the United States Curtis Cup golf team will be honored before the entire Orange Bowl audience tomorrow night, (Oct. 14) at the University of Miami versus South Carolina football game. Judy will also be Delta Gamma's new pledge trainer this year.

Pearl Buck's 'Several Worlds' To Be Reviewed

The review will take place at the home of Mrs. Edward G. Harris, 660 Davis Rd.

Proceeds from the program will be devoted to the work of the church's missionary, Rosemarie Kascher in Japan.

Miss Kascher was graduated from the University of Miami in 1958 and left from the South Miami Methodist Church to teach in the Christian School in Nagasaki.

She sent special decorations including candles and rice paper napkins to be used at the review party.

How many savings accounts should I have?

That depends on YOU! How well you manage your money...and what you are saving for...are the determining factors in deciding how many accounts you should have at Coral Gables Federal. Separate accounts for each of your major needs is the easy, practical way to "budget for the future"...before the need occurs.

First and most important is your Regular Savings Account, providing a general cash reserve for emergencies at any time...accumulating the down payment for a home of your own...assuring security and peace of mind for the years to come.

But what about once-a-year expenses like taxes? They can take quite a "chunk" out of your regular savings...opening a Special Tax Account is a more realistic (and painless) way to meet this annual need. The same applies to Christmas and Vacation money...best handled through individual accounts.

And for your children, of course, you want to do all you can to help them with their higher education...and the way to do it is through a Special College Savings Account. How else could you meet this future expense?

So YOU decide how many savings accounts you need at Coral Gables Federal. Each account — Regular or Special — earns dividends at the current rate of 4% per annum, payable twice a year on December 31 and June 30. Accounts are insured up to $10,000 by a permanent agency of the U.S. Government. And each account enables you to "budget for the future"...whatever your needs may be.

What To Do When Tragedy Strikes?

What do I do and where do I go from here is a question hundreds of people must ask themselves, after they have been left handicapped as the result of an automobile accident.

This crossroad is encountered every day by hundreds of victims of the nation's spiraling automobile injury toll.

One person who found herself at such a crossroad is Barbara Bein. She was just 21 years old and a senior at the University of Miami, when her body was crushed in an automobile accident in 1957.

No three years later, Barbara is confined to a wheelchair, paralyzed from the waist down. However, she is not sitting at home brooding over her fate, but is holding down a full time, 40-hour a week job.

Finished College

Barbara has finished college, and is working in the Coral Gables youth program helping active youngsters enjoy themselves. She supervises children between the ages of 13 and 17 at the War Memorial Youth Center and thinks she doesn't have any special problem handling her charges, "No more than would ordinarily come up," she said.

Along with her other duties at the Youth Center, Barbara has been coaching a volleyball team and is doing everything she can, to see they do well.

She feels that the biggest challenge in her life at the moment is to be successful at her job, which she started to work at full time this summer after more than a year's experience working part time at the Youth Center.

Appeared On TV Show

Rehabilitation plays an important part in Barbara's life, she recently appeared on nationwide TV show, "Medicine, USA," which originated from Miami Beach during the American Medical Association Convention, and summarized the progress of rehabilitation in the United States.

She has the highest praise for the VA Hospital where she took some training to finish up her college program. She thinks the staff and the patients she came in contact with were "wonderful" to her, and seeing so many people "who were worse off than I was" gave her renewed courage to go on fighting to overcome the effects of her injury.

Barbara liked the work she did at the hospital, "Mostly correcting patients' swimming styles," she said, and her physical education background proved valuable. Her one regret is that she cannot get out there too much now.

Living with her parents at 1431 Trillo St., Barbara, originally from Chicago, said she "Loves it here."

Alpha Chi Omega Is 75 Monday

Members of both the collegiate chapter and alumnae Alpha Chi Omega Sorority will observe founders day and its 75th year Monday with a 6 p.m. dinner in the chapter's suite at the Mary B. Merritt Panhellenic Building, University of Miami.

Mrs. W. H. Snelling is chairman. Mrs. Norman Alley chapter adviser will present the new pledges.

Mrs. W. E. Laesch, alumni president will present the president's pin to Phyllis Engle, collegiate president.

BARBARA BEIN, confined to a wheel chair after she was injured in a car accident, draws from life the satisfaction that she will not surrender to adversity. Facing reality, she occupies her time with various activities at the Coral Gables Youth Center. One of her duties is coaching the girl's softball team. In the background is Susan Dilner, 800 Cremona Ave., swinging at a pitched ball during a recent batting session.

Edwin Drescher, 8080 SW 84th Ct., manager of Pan American World Airways Latin American Division, has been elected assistant comptroller for the airline. His headquarters will be in New York.

Drescher has been division manager with headquarters in Miami for almost eight years, during which time the division has set new records each year for passengers and cargo carried.

He helped launch the division into the jet age a year ago when the airline's Boeing 707's began flying between New York and Buenos Aires.

A veteran of 20 years with Pan Am, Drescher was named division manager in December, 1952, moving up from division accountant to succeed Humphrey W. Toomey, who was at that time elected a Pan Am vice president with headquarters in Rio de Janeiro.

Drescher joined the comptroller's staff of the airline in New York early in January 1942. Assigned to Miami in December of that year, he assisted in organizing Pan Am's general accounting office, now located in New York. He became Latin American Division accountant in 1945.

During World War II, Drescher handled the accounting on numerous important wartime contracts performed by Pan American for the U.S. government.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., Drescher was graduated from New York University's School of Commerce and Finance in 1930.

Drescher is a director of the

Make A Wise Move, See Ace

This huge 40-foot all-aluminum van is an example of the up-to-date equipment employed by Ace R. B. Van Lines, Inc. Ace's local and long distance moving service has a reputation for careful handling, reliability, and lowest rates.

Hundreds of families in this area are willing to recommend Ace R. B. Van Lines, Inc. for moving and storage. Why? They know from experience that Ace stands for A—accommodating; C—courteous; E—economical service.

"We are especially proud of the complimentary remarks we have received from our satisfied customers about the courtesy of our men... these men are trained in every phase of moving," Paul B. Berlin said.

Ace R. B. Van Lines, Inc. with their air-conditioned offices and fire proof warehouses, 2136 NW 24th Ave., began operations here 14 years ago and has since assumed a place of leadership in the moving and storage fields.

"In 1947 there was just one truck, a 16-foot furniture van used for local moving," Berlin said. Five years ago we acquired our I.C.C. license permitting us to operate long distant vans. Today nine modern furniture vans serve all local moving and serve 23 Eastern and Midwestern states."

Berlin attributes the success of his company to its continuing efforts in striving for better service. "Our vans are spotlessly clean and my crew members make every effort to avoid exasperating delays."

There is also a savings factor, he said, "we have reduced tariff rates—this enables us to offer lower customer prices."

Up-To-Date Equipment
The modern, all-aluminum 40-foot trailer makes frequent trips along the Eastern seaboard and Midwest points. It is capable of carrying entire contents of a household or "part loads" for various individuals.

Ace also handles shipments by freight, sea or air to Puerto Rico, Panama Canal Zone and Cuba.

Free estimates for all moving costs by Ace Van Lines can be secured by calling NE 5-6496. An expert examiner will gladly come to your home to advise

PAUL D. BERLIN, founder and president of Ace R. B. Van Lines, Inc.

Answer: Of course not. Mountainous tropical islands are not like Florida. Besides, it's not so much where you go as that you're enjoying shipboard life.

$3 Million UM Library To Be Built In Spring

The Board of Trustees of the University of Miami has authorized completion of the $3 million Otto G. Richter Library on the main campus, Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, UM president, has announced.

Construction is scheduled to begin in the early spring Dr. Pearson said.

The first unit of the library, which cost $485,000, is in use, housing some 200,000 volumes formerly stored on the South Campus.

Millionaires Gift

Funds to complete the library were provided by utilization of $2 million of the $6 million bequest from the late Otto G. Richter and through a gift of $500,000 from an anonymous donor.

UM students voted last year to add $10 a year to their student activities fee to be divided equally to assist in the construction of a library and expansion of the Student Union.

The main portion of the Richter bequest is being added to the University's general endowment to increase faculty salaries.

Plans for the complete library call for a structure with five times the capacity of the first unit now in use, or a total of 190,000 square feet. Immediate use will be to house the University's more than 500,000 books.

The first floor will contain

Gleopatra's Needle, an ancient obelisk which towers above the 84th Street section of New York's Central Park, is the oldest man-made object in this country. A gift of Egypt, it dates back to 15 centuries B.C. and is said to have been gazed upon by Moses. The inscriptions tell of the virtues and victories of King Thutmose, "Son of the Sun." It was presented to the city in 1877 by Khedive Ismail Pasha.

the undergraduate reading room. On the second floor will be located the reference, periodical and circulation departments. Additional reading rooms and study area will be found on the third floor.

Dr. Archie L. McNeal, UM director of libraries, pointed out that the completed structure will be adequate to take care of the library needs of the University for an estimated 20 years.

Sunday Program Arranged By Music Club

Lawrence Tremblay, clarinetist and Joseph Tarpley, pianist, will be the guest artists presenting the public program Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Musicians Club of America, 303 Minorca Ave.

The soloists, both on the faculty of the School of Music, University of Miami, toured South America this past summer on a 12-week concert tour, sponsored by the United States State Department.

Included in their program Sunday will be brief talks by both musicians regarding the various aspects of musical performance and education in South America.

Included in their program will be a composition written by the Bolivian composer Jose Diaz Gainza called, "Suray Sarita," and dedicated to Tremblay and Tarpley.

Exhibit Opens Oct. 17

The Artist Interprets the Figure will be the theme of an exhibit opening at the Natalie Baskin Gallery Oct. 17. The paintings will be on display until Nov. 5.

A preview of the exhibit, which expresses varied concepts of the human figure, will be held Sat., Oct. 15, from 8-10 p.m.

Full Season Program Set By Miami Ballet

Looking forward to another successful year, the Miami Ballet Company, has announced plans for its 10th anniversary season.

On the agenda is an hour-long television show Dec. 4, a full evening performance in Fort Meyers in January, and the annual Spring production April 29 at Dade County Auditorium.

Another highlight will be the premier of "Twist of Fate," a ballet written especially for the Miami company by Wakefield Poole, New York dancer-coreographer.

Non-Profit Group

The ballet company, a non-profit civic organization, was chartered in 1951 to provide a showcase for local talent and encourage promising young dancers.

This summer company members continued their study in such places as the Ballet Theatre in New York, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and the School of National Ballet of Canada.

Broadway and Europe, too, claim their share of former company members. Adriana Keathley is appearing in "Camelot" and Kenneth Creel and Pat Neary are touring with the American Festival Ballet and the New York City Ballet respectively.

Final auditions for membership in the company will be held Oct. 16 at 2973 Coral Way. Junior company auditions for ages 9-13, will be at 2 p.m. Those for the senior company, 14 and over, will be at 4 p.m.

Judging the auditions will be Jill Mallory, 1st vice president of the Florida chapter of the Dance Masters of America, Thomas Armour, artistic director of the Miami Ballet and fellow of the National Academy of Ballet and Renee Zintgraff, director of the junior company.

This past summer Armour was an instructor at the National Academy of Ballet in New York City. Studying under him were teachers from Puerto Rico, Sweden and Canada as well as the United States.

Tamiami Kiwanis' Fetes Fire Prevention Week

The Tamiami Kiwanis Club is observing Fire Prevention Week today by holding their annual noon meeting at the West Miami Fire Department.

Following the luncheon there will be a brief demonstration of fire prevention methods.

Demo Arts Club Meets Tuesday

New in the Southwest section of Dade County is the Demo Arts Club, a social-service organization composed of resident women who will hold a meeting at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday at the Sunland Shopping Center.

Mrs. G. G. Hall, is taking reservations for the noon luncheon at CE 5-0453.

The Demo Arts Club primary function is to enlighten and enliven the lives of its members through self improvement.

To this end a program stressing individual interests, such as hair styles, clothes and cosmetics has been arranged. Service projects will be included throughout the year's program. Mrs. G. O. Pletts at CE 5-4907 may be contacted for further information on membership and guests.

Business Men's Mecca

Why is our Waterway Dining Room so popular with Business Men? Well, for one thing, they like the excellence of fine food at moderate prices. For another, they relish the pleasant relaxation afforded by the charming surroundings. But perhaps the principal attraction for men with no time to waste is the truly extraordinary service we dispense as a regular occurrence. Hot food arrives at your table piping hot just as it came from the oven . . . cold food refreshingly cool and crisp. That's the way it always is . . . at the Waterway Dining Room. Try it once . . . at Breakfast, Luncheon or Dinner . . . you'll quickly see what we mean.
