

City Fires 2 Of 4 Meter Checkers

A long standing controversy involving City Commission parking policy, merchants and meter maids came to a head Monday when two of the girls were fired.

The girls, Shirley Searle and Norweida Barrow, hired an attorney and asked the City of Coral Gables to list the dismissal charges.

"It's just an excuse to get rid of us," Mrs. Searle said Tuesday. Miss Barrow could not be reached for comment.

"We expected it," said Mrs. Searle.

The meter checkers were on regular policeman status until recently when the City Commission placed them under the authority of finance director Kenneth Allyn.

Allyn interrogated the women Friday about alleged falsification of parking tickets and recommended to city manager L. W. Robinson Jr. that they be relieved.

Robinson reviewed Allyn's findings and made the firing official Monday.

Robinson said he fired the women "For failure to answer questions concerning discrepancies in a number of overtime parking tickets they issued."

Allyn recently blamed the transfer of the four meter checkers from the Police Department to his department for their low morale.

The women, who were not reduced in pay but whose future pay and other benefits were affected, were disgruntled, Allyn said. The two dismissed checkers were paid $87.68 a week for 40 hours work.

Another facet of the controversy is the charge by some merchants that the city placed the girls on quotas.

This was denied by both Robinson and Allyn. Robinson said the checkers had been instructed to ticket all violations.

"No matter how many we wrote, it wasn't enough," said Mrs. Searle.

NORWEIDA BARROW WRITES TICKET

Checkers Tell Their Side Of Hassle With Parkers

By RAYMOND LANG

"My goodness, do you people hide somewhere and wait for the meter flag to pop up?"

This is only one of the complaints made against meter division personnel who write tickets for overtime parking.

But what is their story? To find out, the ticket-writers were asked.

"Being discourteous?" Shirley Searle, a petite redhead asked. "We're not, no less than they (motorists) are. Some of them don't treat us like human beings, but like animals."

"I don't think they dislike us. They dislike the job we're doing. I think it all boils down to this: It's not us, it's the job."

"When they get a ticket, they think it's a personal affront. But it's not! It's my job!"

One main reason some motorists feel the ticket-writers are discourteous is that a deaf ear is turned to the motorist's request not to finish writing the ticket.

"A meter division person has orders from Metro and Coral Gables city hall not to heed the motorist's request, but to finish writing the ticket."

When the motorist sees his request has no effect, the ticket-writer is often said to be discourteous.

Another complaint is that the ticket-writer "hides somewhere" and waits for a meter to run out of time.

Professional packers and wrappers for shipping or mailing. "The Barefoot Mailman", 234 Valencia Ave., Coral Gables adv.

Not so, say the ticket writers. "We have too much to do without playing games," Sherry Sherman said. "And besides, we're just enforcing the law."

Shirley agreed. "All we know is that that flag is red and we don't know how long it's been red. We're told to write the ticket."

Gayle Campbell, the only male ticket-writer, told of a merchant who became abusive and refused. (See METERS, Page 24)

City Accepts Lovell Offer Of Park Land

A proposal to create a beautified park at the southeast corner of Coral Way and Red Road was accepted by the City Commission Tuesday.

The acceptance followed a second appearance by Malcolm Lovell in which he denounced the Commission for their earlier rejection of the offer.

"I think the Commission has shown very poor judgment," Lovell said Tuesday.

While the Commission bridled at Lovell's criticism, he modified his proposal considerably.

"We'd sell it (the property) for a dollar unhappily," Lovell said.

His previous offer had been to sell it to the City "at any price considered fair by the City Commission."

Douglas Entrance Issue Injected Into Campaign For City Commissioner

Douglas Entrance, the perennial campaign topic, became an issue again this week.

Col. J. R. Younger (U.S.A., ret.) claimed that candidate C. L. (Jerry) Dressel had a financial interest in the controversial development.

Younger is former president of the Greater Miami Crime Commission.

Dressel said Tuesday that he owns a one-eighth interest in the entrance property.

His brother, R. L. Dressel, with whom Dressel is associated in a dairy and other enterprises, also owns a one-eighth share, Dressel said.

A 100-room hotel and apartment houses were proposed by investors back in 1956 at the Douglas Entrance site.

The proposal was backed by the Chamber of Commerce headed by James Lowry, president and subsequently president of the Douglas Entrance Corp.

The Canadian and other investors who pushed the plan backed out of the project in 1958, selling their interests to Lowry and other investors, including the Dressels.

The project raised the ire of some local residents over the issue of the city's vacating three streets to create a unified tract and then the project failed to get underway.

One law suit to block the venture failed and a grand jury took a look without taking action.

Dressel said Tuesday that he had no part in the original proposal made in 1956.

He and other investors attempted to put the project back on the road in 1958 after it became bogged down, Dressel said. The hotel project still has not materialized.

There have been several offers to build the hotel, but all have failed, some of them because of bad publicity surrounding the property, Dressel said.

Apartment buildings on the property were finally constructed by Edward Walters last year. Walters has a 99-year lease.

Dressel said he would gladly sell his share at a loss. The investment has been a liability, he added.

Dressel estimated the value of the remaining land and entrance building at more than $300,000.

Opponents of the planned hotel have proposed a public park at the entrance.

Something For You

If there's a common complaint about The Times it's the quality of its printing.

Keith Phillips Jr. said the other week that his 15-year-old could do better with his rubber stamp. We suspect Keith may be right.

Our mechanical staff has worked wonders with machinery which should have been put into an old folks' home long ago. So we tell you that the staff has done well under trying conditions.

But the complaint about the need for improved printing has been so widespread that we have looked for a way to solve it. We have found the way.

Beginning with next week's issue, the paper will be printed on the million-dollar presses of The Miami Herald.

It will be cleaner, easier to read. The headlines will be better looking. Pictures will be sharper.

Improvement in quality means a better newspaper both for subscribers and advertisers.

This is but the first of several major improvements to be made in Coral Gables' newspaper. We believe you'll approve of all of them; next week we'll furnish more of the details.

'Burdine's' Hearing Set

A new hearing has been set for April 4 on re-zoning of the 20-acre "Burdine's" tract off South Dixie Highway.

The City Commission set the hearing last week after hearing J. Allen Brown, agent for the present owners, tell of minor changes that had been made since the last hearing.

The so-called Burdine's tract was the subject of a controversy in 1955 when nearby residents sued the city and blocked a proposed shopping center.

Brown's proposal entails creation of a series of buffers — professional offices and apartment houses—between the highway and neighboring residences. Some of the streets would also be re-aligned.

The real estate broker worked out the re-zoning plan with surrounding residents, but must now get approval on the minor changes in zoning.

Principal owners of the property are reported to be the Brovay Corp.; Arthur B. and Edward J. McBride and James Keller, trustee for the remaining portion.

Now You Can Build Shelter

Bomb shelter requirements were adopted by the Coral Gables City Commission recently.

The ordinance, passed on first reading, will enable Gableites desiring protection in case of war to construct underground shelters as far as their property lines. Doors, however, will have to be within the regular setbacks.

Above ground shelters will have to conform to the regular setbacks.

IN THEIR EASTER BONNETS? Not Gina, right, who's 4, and her sister, Sherri, 2. The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Grainger, 323 Candia Ave., were photographed last year by Times photographer Raymond Lang as they browsed through the hats in a Hurricane Relief Center.

What Bob Searle Wants As Mayor

The city's next mayor, Robert L. Searle, outlined his program Wednesday of last week before Coral Gables merchants.

His major points:

—Develop a master plan for land use which would settle the question of tall buildings for the Gables.

—Develop a park and shop plan whereby merchants pay customers' parking charges and the danger of overtime tickets is removed.

—Develop a credit card system for shops here.

—Emphasize a public relations approach by meter checkers when talking to violators.

—Reduce the parking fine from $2 to $1.

Searle was but one of 12 politicians to address the Retail Merchants Division of the city's Chamber of Commerce. However, he is the only man assured of election, having no opposition in the April 11 election.

The dinner meeting was held at the Pub.

Merchant president Albert Friedman promised each candidate three minutes to speak his piece. An alarm on the clock sounded at the time's end.

Moderator Fred Hartnett, who as a former mayor is also familiar with the role of candidate, indulgently permitted brief remarks after the bell.

All candidates took advantage of it.

Among ideas advanced during the evening were:

—Seek out a department store to occupy the old Youth Center lot and the present A & P site downtown, Bernard Weksler.

—Remove the Ponce de Leon Elementary School, Joe Murphy.

—Coordinate buses with county lines, Chuck Powell.

—Conduct a South American fiesta here in the summer, Harold Cram.

Weksler attacked the city's current advertising program as not aggressive enough.

Robert Hildreth, chairman of the committee which oversees the campaign, disputed the point and a general discussion followed about how effectively the $65,000 is being spent.

Searle said, in response to a question, that he plans to raise the appropriation in the next budget. This is the first year the city has spent money directly for promotion.

South Miami Bank Completes Seminar

First Bank & Trust Co. of South Miami has concluded a management seminar in "Personal Leadership", conducted by Thomas H. Lawrence of Lawrence-Leiter & Co., management consultants.

DR. JAMES A. VAUGHN Jr. of 5965 Ponce de Leon Blvd., received an award at the first anniversary party of South Miami Hospital. Dr. Vaughn, who made an "outstanding contribution to the organization and development of the hospital," was honored at the King's Bay Yacht Club for his service as first president of the hospital's medical staff. The hospital is a year old.

Owner Told: Meet With Zoning Law

The city has rescinded an order cutting off power to a group of residents living in an office building converted to apartment use without official approval.

Parkleigh Commonwealth Enterprises, Inc., owner of the building at 100-102 Madeira, has been ordered to comply with city building and zoning ordinances.

Eugene Davidson, assistant treasurer and building manager, said Monday that the violations are being corrected.

Four tenants on the second floor will not be affected.

Parkleigh converted the office building without clearing the Building and Zoning Departments. The building did not meet parking requirements as an eight-unit apartment house.

Easter Story To Be Told At City Hal'

The 11th Easter sunrise service in Coral Gables will be held at 6 a.m. on the east lawn of the City Hall Sunday.

It will be under the sponsorship of the Coral Gables Ministerial Association and the Southwest YMCA.

The Easter Story will be presented as a tableau by the Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Clubs of Coral Gables High School under the supervision of Lillian Connolly. The Narrator will be Dr. T. Rupert Coleman, Minister of the University Baptist Church.

Easter Music will be provided by the Men's Chorus of the First Methodist Church under Helen White, Director-Organist. Soloists will include Oren Coates and Norman Clayton.

Preceding the pageant, Dr. Ralph Harris of the University of Miami will play Easter music on the carillon chimes. A flourish of trumpets will signal the opening of the service.

Participating in the worship will be Rev. W. L. Joyner of Wesley Methodist Church, Rev. Clyde Myers of First Presbyterian Church, Rev. Ladislau Biro of Coral Gables Baptist Church.

Rev. Luther Cole of First Christian Church, Rev. Fred Cole of Coral Gables Congregational Church and Rev. James Copeland of Flagler Street Baptist Church.

Write In Campaign Refuses To Die

There will be a substantial write in vote for commissioner Joe Murphy for mayor, it is predicted.

Carl Turkington, president of the Coral Gables Civic Association, said so Tuesday following a joint meeting with members of the Sunrise Harbour Association, Apartment Owners Association and representatives of the Riviera section.

Murphy earlier in the day, in addressing the Coral Gables Citizens Committee, disowned the campaign to make him mayor.

Later in the day at City Commission meeting he said:

"I would like to take this opportunity to put to rest the so-called write in for mayor movement which has commenced in my behalf during the past two weeks.

"My reasons are two-fold:

"1. Our City deserves complete harmony in its government, and to this end personal ambition must be my second choice.

"2. Bob Searle has the necessary experience and ability to serve this City as its next Mayor, and in my opinion, he is better qualified for this office at this time.

"I trust my friends will accept my decision in this matter, and continue to support me for the City Commission only."

Commissioner Robert Searle is unopposed in his bid for the mayoralty soon to be given up by John M. Montgomery.

Turkington described the movement as a "protest action." Both Murphy and Searle appeared before the All States Friendship Club earlier in the week. The other candidates addressed the group last week.

A showdown with Metro over traffic law enforcement was called for by Murphy before the Citizens Committee Tuesday.

"The seat of government should be at City Hall and not at any other place in the community," candidate Bernard B. Weksler told the group.

"Tell Metro we refuse to go along with their tax assessment program and go along with our own," he said.

Weksler said he would propose asking for a delay of at least one year in complying with the Metro charter requiring all tax assessing and collecting to be done by Metro.

Candidate C. L. (Jerry) Dressel, proposed a five to 10-year program of capital improvements. He said no one but the taxpayers were to blame for the status of the program now.

Something must be done to stop the exodus of City help to surrounding areas which pay more money, Dressel said.

Harold Cram proposed that the Gables prepare for the day when the seaport of Miami will be completed.

Charles Powell stated a four-point platform backing a strong zoning code; placing conflict of interest provisions reviewing the Youth Center operation and a program of road improvements.

Gables Student Looks Toward West Point

Christopher L. Spire, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Spire, 5721 Granada Blvd., has undergone extensive tests for admittance to West Point Military Academy.

A former student at Coral Gables High School and a graduate of Bullis Preparatory School in Washington, D. C., Spire is now waiting for results of the examinations. If the results are successful, he will enter the Academy in July.

Spire was nominated for the annual examination by Sen. George Smathers.

Billy Fights People Or Fires—Beats Both

By MAURICE LABELLE

The man critics said couldn't count to 10 after the recent Patterson-Johansson fight is a Gables fireman.

He is Billy Regan — boxer, coach, referee, judge and a lieutenant in the city fire department.

Regan, whose real, non-boxing name is William P. Bowden, was given a sendoff Sunday by friends as he left for Chicago. He's officiating there this week in the Golden Glove finals.

Ref Is Different

In Gloves matches, the referee is a mechanic, says Regan.

It's the judge who decides a bout in the event of no knock-out.

Regan and Jocko Miller of Washington, D.C.'s boxing commission, are totalling points to pick winners and perhaps a future boxing champ of the world.

This counting business is an important one in boxing. More than one contest has been decided by a single point.

There was the alleged long count in the Dempsey-Tunney fight and the more recent controversy over count in the heavyweight championship fight which Regan refereed.

"Why don't you learn to count to 10," Regan quoted one of his critics from among the many who flooded him with calls and mail following the fight.

Regan, a former University of Miami student, retorts that he learned to count, and without the help of an abacus, at an early age.

"I picked up the count from the timekeeper," Regan said of the recent fight.

The count had reached four, and Regan said his first count was five. After that it was easy.

Proved Right: Regan

Films and other evidence have proved him right, Regan said.

Regan himself stepped into the ring 35 times and came out the winner in 30. Four he lost and one was a draw.

The featherweight came within a shadow of the championship when he defeated Sam Levine before Levine fought Freddy Miller for the title.

Miller won and Regan was one of the many who never got a crack at the big one.

What does Regan think of boxing?

"When the bell rings," Regan said, "they (the boxers) are dependent upon themselves."

Unlike many competitive sports, where the athlete can lean on teammates, the boxer must face his adversary alone, Regan said.

Thirteen of the boys who fought under him during the more than 20 years he coached the University of Miami teams went on to become attorneys and two of those judges.

Another is a certified public accountant and one heads a private business.

His University of Miami teams were ranked in the top 10 in the nation for several years, reaching the third or fourth spot.

Archie Slaten went on to join the 1952 Olympic team with 384 Minorca.

the present heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Regan was assistant coach under William Kimbrough before being named coach. Kimbrough is now Coral Gables police chief.

But the anti-boxing element at the University finally caught up with Regan.

He rolled with the punch and continued his activities on the professional side of boxing.

Regan has worked for the City of Coral Gables for 26 years, most of them with the Fire Department. He lives at

"He's Coral Gables' most illustrious fireman," said Chief Paul Matheson.

And he's pretty good at fighting fires too, the chief indicated.

After the war, he was chosen to write the history of technological research, a top secret document, for the government. Wedemeyers Sell Building, Plan New Florist Shop

Hans and Grayce Wedemeyer, operators of Coral Gables Flower Shop, have sold their building and lot to Coral Gables Federal Savings and Loan Association next door.

However, the Wedemeyers won't be moving immediately. They have purchased the same sized lot, 25 feet by 100 feet, in the 3300 block of Ponce de Leon Boulevard. A new building will be built there and they expect to occupy it in July.

The Wedemeyers opened their first shop in Miami in 1924 and still operate Multiflora Gardens at 3275 SW 8th St.

They came to the Gables in 1937 with a business at Ponce and Alhambra.

"We're not leaving Ponce," said Mrs. Wedemeyer this week. "We think it's the place to be. We're just moving further out."

Fire Department Cited By Scouts

The Coral Gables Fire Department received a certificate of appreciation this week from the South Dade District of the Boy Scouts of America.

The presentation acknowledged the department's efforts in counseling Scouts working for merit badges.

Gables Fire Chief Paul Matheson accepted the award for the department. George H. Scott, chairman of the South Dade District, made the presentation in a program at the South Miami Chamber of Commerce.

Check Forger Runs Afoul Law Here

A 20-year-old New Yorker has been turned over to Miami police for prosecution on charges she passed a series of bad checks, including one attempt in Coral Gables.

It was the last try that tripped her up and led to her arrest, according to plainclothesman Herman F. Pitz.

The woman was identified as Rose Marie Black, whose local address was given as 3614 NE Second Ave.

According to Pitz, the young woman was picked up at Jay's Jewelry, 2348 Ponce de Leon Blvd., when she attempted to pass a check there.

All the checks were written for an identical amount, $48.73.

Miss Black claimed that they were payroll checks from General Tire Co. in Miami Beach, Pitz said, but a check with Malcolm J. Randall, assistant manager, revealed that they were forgeries.

Miss Black then admitted the forgeries, Pitz said.

Lowe Gallery Will Show 16 Spanish Painters

New Spanish Painting and Sculpture, a major exhibition of 51 works by 16 artists who have come into prominence in the last decade, will be on view at the University of Miami Joe and Emily Lowe Art Gallery, April 2-29. It will be previewed by Gallery members April 1.

The show will be supplemented by an exhibition of works by members of the University of Miami art faculty.

The Spanish exhibition was assembled and first displayed at the Museum of Modern Art, New York City, which received a grant from the CBS Foundation to aid in circulating it to galleries. Considered one of the major shows of the current Lowe season, it is being sponsored locally by the Beaux Arts group.

The exhibition is intended to indicate the diversity of styles and preoccupations by which some of the leading figures in Spain are developing their individual idioms.

Ten members of the UM art faculty will be represented in a show opening the same date in the lecture gallery and continuing through April 23.

Joint Registration

Joint voter registration between Coral Gables and Dade County was advocated by Bernard B. Weksler this week.

Weksler, a candidate for the Coral Gables City Commission, said he was "appalled" when he learned that there are approximately 6,000 to 7,000 more Gables residents registered to vote in county, state and national elections than in municipal elections.

City Commissioner Jim Hess Endorses Bernard B. Weksler

Coral Gables City Commissioner Jim Hess announced today his endorsement of BERNARD B. WEKSLER and recommended his election to the Coral Gables City Commission.

"Bernard B. Weksler," said the present City Commissioner, "possesses all the attributes and qualities that I like in a City Commissioner. He is capable, knows the problems of our City, is honest, sincere, and a man of great integrity."

Hess, in asking his friends and supporters to vote for WEKSLER, went on to say that the candidate, a 39 year old attorney-accountant, knows how to plan for the future development of Coral Gables, is a firm believer in strict zoning enforcement, and is strongly opposed to high rise buildings in residential and apartment areas.

"It is well known," said Hess, "that WEKSLER is an independent candidate. He is not part of a three man slate that is backed and supported by certain high rise private interest groups."

Other reasons cited by Hess for supporting WEKSLER are the candidate's civic and community activities such as preventing the Granada Golf Course "give-away"; the exposing of tax "free-loading" of hospitals and other properties; the eliminating of discriminatory and unequal fees and charges on the public golf courses; the creating of the Coral Gables Recreational Advisory Board; and the spearheading of the Citizens' fight to reinstate Tax Assessor Thomas C. Blount. "BERNARD B. WEKSLER," concluded Hess, "is a fine example of an unselfish, public spirited and civic minded individual."

OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

TRUTH and or CONSEQUENCES

BY BERNARD B. WEKSLER

CANDIDATE FOR CITY COMMISSION

DEAR MR. & MRS. CITIZEN,

You and I are vitally interested in TRUTH and Honesty in our municipal government. We cannot afford the CONSEQUENCES of electing to the City Commission men who do not have the best interests and welfare of Coral Gables at heart.

The TRUTH About High Rise Dwellings!

I am firmly opposed to the construction of High Rise Dwellings in residential and apartment areas. The CONSEQUENCE of any other stand on this issue would mean a highly urbanized crowded community with big city "Honky Tonk" atmosphere, which we do not want.

The TRUTH About Conflict of Interests!

I strongly support the adoption of of a strong Conflict of Interest provision in the City Charter prohibiting ANY City Commissioner, appointed official, or city employee, from financially benefiting DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY from any transaction, contract or matter involving Coral Gables. The CONSEQUENCE of any other stand on this issue would mean a repetition of the Douglas Entrance Street giveaway; the Granada Golf Course giveaway; vacating public alleyways; $178,000 a year insurance contracts; and unwarranted zoning variances—which we do not want.

The Truth About BERNARD B. WEKSLER!

I am the Independent Candidate who believes in standing up for WHAT IS RIGHT and in the best interests of the entire community. I am not and will never be a puppet controlled by selfish outside interests.

We were a mite upset when Joyce Woodney, the Coral Gables high math teacher, got all that publicity the other day pertaining to her dress that was or wasn't where it should have been.

Frankly, we were pulling for Miss Woodney and were happy to note her acquittal on the charges pertaining to dressmaking.

What disturbed us was that it's the students who're supposed to make news, not teachers.

Then along came Mike Zinner and that machine of his that took first place in the Science Fair. Now this is what school is all about . . . the student con- of knowledge.

This just isn't the City Beautiful, it's the city smart, too.

Ignorance Is No Excuse

There are many qualities to search for in a man suitable to represent you and me on the City Commission of Coral Gables. One of the most notable qualities is a demonstrated knowledge about the business at hand.

In this instance, the business is the city's — How to run this municipality day to day, how to forecast the Gables' needs and then budget to take care of them, how to resolve conflicts among the city's residents over zoning and their problems.

We don't presume today to tell you who among the 11 commission candidates demonstrates the proper qualities. However, we do post a flag of caution.

In several cases, the lack of preparation by the man is so blatant that a mere handshake and a minute or two of conversation will forewarn you.

Reporter Maurice Labelle noted in a story last week about a "lack of home work" being done by many of the candidates.

This was pitifully obvious before the merchants meeting on Wednesday of last week and again before the Citizens Committee Tuesday morning of this week.

The men who have taken the pains to acquire facts stand out among the field. Democracy has its foibles but one of its strengths is that the political pretender soon is scraped by a discerning electorate.

Robbers To Barons, Our State History Has Them All

(Newcomers, and perhaps some oldtimers, will be interested, we believe, in a series on the history of Florida. This is the first in a series of articles by a professor of history at the University of Florida at Gainesville. The series will continue weekly.)

By SAMUEL PROCTOR
Part I

Florida's history, older than that of any other American state, is filled with excitement, intrigue and romance.

Almost stranger than fiction, the history of Florida is rich and varied enough to provide plots and background for countless numbers of thrilling novels and exciting adventure stories.

Conquistadors, soldiers of fortune, Indians. Pirates, military and political leaders.

Robbers barons, gangsters, deposed dictators.

Sportsmen, gamblers, industrialists, land promoters—all have left their imprint on Florida.

Almost from the moment in 1513, when the white-sailed caravels of Ponce de Leon reached Florida's green shores, until now, when we stand as the gateway to Latin America, Florida has played an important role on the national and world scene.

The early explorers—Ponce de Leon, de Narvaez, de Soto, de Luna—came seeking gold, glory, converts to the Church, and perhaps, even a spring whose waters could make the old young again. Plunging into the maze of Florida jungle and swamp, they risked their reputations and fortunes and sacrificed their lives in their greedy quest for treasure.

Gold and silver were never found, but eventually it was realized that timber, naval stores and agricultural produce were treasures of greater value.

Pedro Menendez de Aviles, who founded St. Augustine in 1565, dreamed great dreams for Florida, and he thought that the area could be so developed that it would indeed become but a suburb of Spain.

The value of Florida was not lost on the French and British, and, many efforts were made to seize these lands from Spain.

Once, the French planted a small colony, Fort Caroline, at the mouth of the St. Johns River, but it was captured, and most of the settlers, including Jean Ribaut, were killed.

The English were more successful, and eventually they forced the Spanish to retreat south of the St. Marys and even threatened to seize their great coquina-rock fort, the Castillo de San Marcos, at St. Augustine. Then, when the French and Indian War ended, the British claimed all of Florida.

Florida was the name once given to all the lands from Key West north to Newfoundland and west to Mexico, but eventually the St. Marys became the northern boundary.

Under the British, Florida was divided at the Apalachicola River into two colonies, both of which remained loyal to the mother country during the American Revolution.

While England remained in the area for two decades only, many traditions and customs (See FLA. HAD, Page 21)

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR:

This letter was sent to the Coral Gables Commission with a copy to The Times for publication.

Gentlemen: My stand on a strong "conflict of interest" provision is known to most of you. There exists, however, a conflict of interest clause in our city Charter that militates against the best interests of our city.

I have reference to the clauses which prohibits any member of a county committee from being a member of the city Commission.

There are presently 13 citizen boards and committees functioning under Metro and most of them are purely advisory and by the strongest stretch of imagination could not be interpreted as conflicting with the best interests of our fair city.

Each of these committees contain the names of one or more residents of Coral Gables, capable civic minded people who feel a duty and sense of loyalty to both Metro and Coral Gables.

These people are lost to our city. Many would make excellent commissioners but may not qualify because they are offering their time and special talents to Metro.

I respectfully propose that this matter be studied and that steps to remedy the situation be taken at the early convenience of this commission.

Charles H. Finkelstein.

Everybody's Business

Some impressions of a Coral Gables newcomer:

It is one of the few towns which actually live up to an ambitious slogan, "The City Beautiful." It is a lovely community; is there any place where people take more interest in their homes and yards?

The municipal bus drivers are an accommodating lot, let you off anywhere that's convenient.

And it's unusual for a public building's clock to be accurate. The city hall's is.

Does every new resident express surprise over the fact you can't buy all the orange juice you want to drink for a dime and that grocers aren't practically giving fresh vegetables away?

Miracle Mile is handsome but the miracle isn't yet finished. Check a number of the lower caliber shops riding on the name and consider what they can do ultimately to the whole Mile unless tenants are constantly upgraded.

It was surprising to find a town that advertises, particularly to its own people. The campaign appears meritorious.

Has the Chamber of Commerce thought about coaxing a story out of the Wall Street Journal on the city that advertises itself? It's a natural for the feature-minded Journal and would be a publicity bonanza for the Gables.

Names Make News

Roal's Albert Friedman only lives a few blocks (Malaga Avenue) from the shop, likes to walk to work. But he has difficulty doing it because so many people stop to offer him lifts.

When the Hans Wedemeyers build their new shop out on Ponce de Leon, the same contractor who built their building in 1946 will do the work: Lyle Roberts.

Sign in manager J. B. Allen's office at Belk's in Red Bird shopping center: "More customers are lost to neglect than competition."

People are talking about the pep Arthur Lundeen is putting into First National Bank.

And it's rumored that Dutch Willard has people taking savings out of fruit jars and from under mattresses. How else could you explain those millions' increase in deposits since January at City National?

The Citizens Committee is thanking Florida National for the early morning use of the parking lot to avoid tickets while they breakfast at Coral Way.

Warner Daniels, following an old merchandising maxim of always trade up, has increased the price range in his department store fashions this year and from that pleased look on his face there's no doubt about the result.

Time To Eat

Mrs. Rolfe Langhorst of 1020 Placetas Ave. is a fastidious housekeeper. Or at least always considered herself as until recently.

Nowadays she leaves the kitchen door open trying to get flies to come in. Seems the kids have a pet chameleon that stays inside the door and flies are his favorite food.

Life In CG

Saturday Evening Post missed a good cover scene Monday at dusk. Four little boys were pattering around on a green at the Biltmore course with the seriousness of Sam Snead but having the fun of Red Skelton.

CITY SIDE

City publicity director Bert Burris came up with a startling observation during discussion by the City Commission of the new bomb or fallout shelter ordinance.

Weighing the possibility of an H-bomb ever falling on Coral Gables, Bert became absorbed in the ramifications.

Suddenly his eyebrows raised and a sardonic smile crossed his face.

Said Burris: "You know what? It would ruin our zoning."

Unhappy Ex-Mayor

A former mayor and man-behind-the-scenes in local politics walked out of Tyler's Restaurant less than happy recently.

He had been invited by a group of local men interested in high rise buildings to give his views on the controversy that has become a campaign issue.

Despite their divergent views on the subject, the discussion went along fairly smoothly until the former mayor reportedly slipped a syllable and indicated to the group that zoning laws were just a talking point.

The feathers that hit the fan are still tossing about and probably won't settle until after the election—if then.

Publicity Shy?

The way a couple of the candidates for the April 11 election are conducting their campaign leads one to wonder if they are contending seriously or just publicity shy.

On the other hand, one of the new?

candidates has used every avenue to make himself known and his policies understood.

School Days

The problem of getting the Dade County School Board to pay for badly needed sidewalk repairs is proving a ticklish one for the city. Coral Gables Elementary's sidewalks are a litigation-minded person's paradise. But the school board figures this to be the city's tough situation.

Said Commissioner Joe Murphy, tongue in cheek:

"Why don't we do a real slop-job . . ."

The Commission decided to write a letter asking the board's co-operation. So what else is the new?

Good Government Road Is A Rough One—Adams

"There's no easy way to get good government," Secretary of State Tom Adams told a group of Gableites interested in politics Friday.

"We're a nation of laws," said Adams, "but laws are made by men."

Adams was addressing members and recent graduates of the "Action Course in Practical Politics" sponsored by the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce.

The secretary of state traced his own political career as a virtual unknown when he ran for state senator from the Duval County area.

Praised Group

Adams praised the group for their interest in politics, which he said will play an ever more important role in the future.

The people, he pointed out, must take a stronger interest in government and let their elected officials know how they feel about various matters.

"No one can be happy serving only himself," Adams said of politicians.

The role of the politician is to carry out the wishes of the people, he indicated. But the people must make their wishes known by contacting their representatives in various ways.

Adams explained the mechanics of the House and Senate and told of his unenviable position of being the first to be called on to vote while a member of the Senate, which has no electronic voting setup such as the House.

"When they call roll — you have to act," said Adams. He stressed the importance of being informed on all matters to eliminate the possibility of voting wrong on proposed legislation.

City Planner Role Foggy, OK Delayed

The proposal made several weeks ago to hire a consultant or consulting firm to help create a plan for the future growth of Coral Gables bogged down last week when confusion resulted over what the consultant's role should be.

City Manager L. W. Robinson Jr. told the City Commission that he had been under the impression that the consultant was to concern himself with high rise buildings only, but some of the Commissioners wanted to make the study broader in scope.

The result is that no decision may come until after the April 11 municipal election when three, possibly four, new men will sit on the Commission.

A majority of the 11 candidates have indicated that a study is needed to clear the air on high rise, but the question of a master plan for future development has not been clearly developed.

Commissioner Frank Kerdyk recently backed the idea of a master plan and hiring of a professional planner, but the Commission at the time indicated a preference for hiring a consultant or consulting firm.

Robinson was looking into costs when the problem of how extensive the study should be cropped up.

Grant Stockdale, named United States Ambassador to Ireland under the Kennedy administration, and, who, with his family resides in Coral Gables, is the only person named to such a high ranking position from this city.

However, his presence in Washington, to attend Ambassadorial school along with his talented wife, Alice Boyd, member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority Alumnae Club, put a kink in plans for parties by the above mentioned group.

First there was to have been an evening coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Cesarano, 4750 Sunset Dr., Tuesday of this week. Cancelled at the last minute, Alice and Grant said, "Come to our house when we return." So that is the set-up.

One instructor in the two weeks school is Adali Stevenson, UN ambassador.

We hear, via the grapevine, that a second Debutante group is in the making in Coral Gables with presentation ball to be held at the Riviera Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. George McKiever of Alhambra Cir., will travel by automobile, train, air, and omnibus on a six weeks trip. They leave shortly for Syracuse, N. Y., where Mr. McKiever, president of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Agents, will have a meeting. Then down to Charleston, W. Va., to visit their daughter and family, the George P. So-vick's and four year old granddaughter, Bobee, and 2-year-old Chip. From there on to Chicago, Colorado, Phoenix, Columbus, Ohio and home. . . Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gregory are sailing April 5th for their second trip abroad. This time they will visit those countries they missed on their first trip. Their sons, Lee Jr. and Gary are both in school — Lee at the University of Florida and Gary at Culver Military Academy.

Flash — we hear of the most curious happenings in our midst. For instance, a certain well-known church garden which has only those trees and plants which grew in the Garden of Eden, has been vandalized so often that most of its stone statues are chained six feet underground.

Mrs. Mae Kirby of Wildwood, N. J. and Coral Gables will entertain for her granddaughter Dorothy Mae Kirby and her room-mate Audrey Snider, both students at Glassboro State Teachers College, Glassboro, N. J. The girls are arriving by Jet flight Friday and since its a first visit to Florida for Audrey, the girls hope to get lots of sun-tan and surf although Mrs. Kirby's friends are planning parties for Dorothy who is Mrs. Kirby's only grandchild.

Mrs. Kirby was luncheon hostess Wednesday at the Country Club of Coral Gables and her guests were old friends of long standing. Green carnations and white chrysanthemums decorated the luncheon table and place and tally cards followed the color theme. Cocktails preceded, and cards followed the luncheon.

It was a double celebration for Mrs. Kirby's guest, Mrs. Joseph Franzen of 1252 Aquila Ave., and Wildwood Crest, N. J. Mrs. Franzen, her husband, and her mother were leaving on a three weeks jaunt to Hawaii. Other out-of-town guests at the party were Mrs. Bert Wallace, Chicago; Mrs. Estelle Anderson, Canada; Mrs. William C. Hunt, Mrs. John Tempest, and Mrs. K. T. Johanson all of Wildwood Crest; also Mrs. Henry Spitz and Mrs. Pierce Sidebottom of Ocean City, N.J. and Mrs. Ruth Urquhart of Cape May, N. J.

"FITTING IS OUR PROFESSION"

WARNING NOTICE TO VOTERS OF CORAL GABLES

Candidates for the Coral Gables City Commission are now ASKING YOU for your vote on April 11, 1961.

SAFEGUARD your vote and the Welfare of your City by demanding that each candidate answer the following questions:

*Do you own or have you owned a financial interest in the Douglas Road Entrance "Deal" and if so, whether you profited by the GIVE AWAY of City owned streets to a private group?

*Were you hand picked by a small group of individuals, the leaders of whom profited by the GIVE AWAY of City owned streets in the Douglas Road Entrance "Deal", and whom at this time are the same leading proponents for the erection of a high rise multiple dwelling apartment building on Biltmore Way? (If the candidate is not forthright in truthfully and completely answering the above questions, it is believed that the records of the TIMES-GUIDE and City Hall, or the answers of certain candidates, will throw some light on the subject.)

*Will you vote for a CONFLICT OF INTEREST provision in the City Charter which will prohibit City Commissioners and other public officials from profiting directly or indirectly, from any official acts involving the City of Coral Gables? BEWARE OF THE CANDIDATE WHO FAILS TO GIVE HIS ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT IN PLEDGING TO VOTE FOR A STRONG CONFLICT OF INTEREST PROVISION IN THE CITY CHARTER!

*Will you pledge to conduct yourself in such a manner as to abstain from using the granting of official favors such as zoning variances and the like for the purpose of furthering your own financial interests and/or the financial interests of your friends and political supporters?

*In view of the past performance of Metropolitan Government, do you feel that you would, if elected, vote in favor of further "give-aways" of Coral Gables personnel and services to Metro?

*Are you in favor of abolishing Metro and returning our government and its services back to the Citizens of Coral Gables?

WHEREVER YOU SEE OR HEAR A CANDIDATE, I urge each voter to get an answer to each of the above important questions. You cannot vote intelligently until you do so.

I believe that the City of Coral Gables is at the crossroads and the election of April 11, 1961, may be the most important election in our history.

We can go forward and progress by thoroughly informing ourselves as to the candidates, going to the polls and voting for honest, able, well-informed, courageous and capable men of high integrity who desire only to contribute to the best interests of the City of Coral Gables.

On the other hand, by failing to assert ourselves, we can go down the hill by allowing a few perennial politicians to put their slate of puppets in office and thereby remain on the receiving end of contributions and contracts from the City, in addition to running the City by remote control.

I have been a permanent resident and a home owner in Coral Gables since my retirement from the Army fourteen years ago. During this entire time I have been active in working for cleaner government and I believe my record of six year's service as President of the Crime Commission of Greater Miami is fairly well known in this area.

I am sponsoring no candidate or slate of candidates. I desire no favors from the City of Coral Gables or any of its officials, past, present or future.

My sole desire in authoring this message and placing it before the voters is in the hopes of making a contribution to what I sincerely believe shall be in the best interests of the future development of the City of Coral Gables.

Do's & Don'ts For Pipe Smoking

by Donald D. Kirtley

Many men say pipe-smoking is one of the most satisfying pleasures on earth.

"It is unfortunate, although, that some persons with a taste for smoking have given up the pipe in despair. These men have undoubtedly, at some time, tried to smoke the wrong kind of tobacco in an unsuitable pipe and, caring little how to fill and tend it, have expended a box of matches in a single smoke," D. D. Kirtley of Kirt's Pipe Shop explained. "Such experiences are sad, but not uncommon."

Of course the proper selection of a pipe is important in obtaining smoking pleasure, but if full satisfaction is to be won, carefully practice the following steps.

- Filling your pipe
- Lighting your pipe
- Proper 'cake'
- Cleaning

Filling Your Pipe

It is important to fill the bowl slowly and evenly, lightly pressing down each pinch of tobacco. A loosely filled pipe will smoke 'hot' whereas a tightly packed pipe will not draw properly. It is important to test the draw and to repack the bowl if necessary, for most of the unsatisfactory smoking that requires the pipe to be lit again and again is due to careless filling.

When you 'light-up' you will find that the tobacco particles tend to rise up in the bowl. "Tamp" them gently back into place and relight with a second match. Puff gently as you light-up and be sure that your pipe is thoroughly lit. Care should be taken to avoid scorching the rim of the bowl.

When relighting, the charred tobacco and ash should be loosened with a spoon of a pipe-tool, tapped out gently and the remaining tobacco pressed down.

Watch Your Cake

Proper 'Cake' (carbon that forms on the inside of the bowl walls) will add to the flavor and richness of the smoke. You should not, however, allow the cake to exceed 1/16th of an inch in thickness (approx. the thickness of a nickel). The difference

Natural Miracle Fabric--Batik

"People from all parts of the world are discovering Indonesian Batik. Free from all the unpleasant 'synthetic' qualities of the new wonder fabrics, batik can claim the same conveniences: you can wash and wear batik without ironing since it will drip-dry. In addition, batik 'breathes'—and most synthetics do not," Bill Mason of Travel, Inc. said.

"There are many types of batik, ranging from quite inexpensive to the luxury class. The most beautiful batiks are hand-drawn. They are called Tulis Batiks and are made by drawing the delicate patterns quite carefully and dyeing each color separately. A Tulis Batik takes a minimum of 40 days to complete, and when finished is as lovely and precious as an etching.

Sport shirts from batik are unsurpassed for color and originality. The more traditional and geometric patterns make up handsomely into sports and dinner jackets. One of the interesting factors about batik for clothing is that the softness of the cloth and the beauty of the colors is improved by washing.

Batik grows more and more beautiful with time.

For women and children, the use of batik is limited only by the wearer's imagination. Sports clothes and evening dresses, blouses, skirts and loungewear are beautiful when made up in this fabric.

Adding A Bedroom Suite?

Did you ever think of a second story addition to your home?

"With our building experience in Coral Gables we have discovered that the most practical method of enhancing beauty and total value of your home is through the addition of a second story," Jay Leshaw president of Art Construction Co., declared.

in heat expansion of the cake and briar walls can result in a cracked bowl. The use of a pipe reamer will remove the excess cake.

Periodically, depending on the number of pipes you own, you should do a thorough cleaning job. This will keep them dry and sweet for many hours of pipe contentment.

Cleaning Your Pipe

It is advisable to clean your pipe directly after smoking, using plenty of pipe cleaners. Try leaving one in your pipe while not using. Always remove the dottle (small residue of tobacco and ashes that collects in the bottom of the bowl) before you put it away to rest. Blow through the stem of your empty pipe to clean out the moisture.

Your pipes will last longer and give more satisfaction if you smoke them in rotation. Never smoke a hot pipe; allow the pipe to cool off before lighting and never remove the stem when pipe is hot as this way cause a cracked shank.

Kirt's Pipe Shop

"Pipe smoking is a gentle art," Kirt declared. "Please stop by the Pipe Shop if you have any questions."

"Remember too, I maintain a complete pipe repair department. All work is done on the premises so you are assured prompt and expert repair service."

Bids Asked To Complete UM's 9-Story Library

A $2½ MILLION ADDITION to Richter Library at the University of Miami will complete that building. Bids will be opened today (Thursday) and if approved by the board of trustees, groundbreaking ceremonies will be held April 3 or 4. The only part of the building presently standing is the two-stories, costing $485,000, under the tower. The tower will rise for seven more stories. There will be a three-story addition as shown to the left of the tower. The main library is now in the Merrick Building.

Fla. Has 7 Degree Reading, Ice Floes In Its Background

(Continued from Page 10) which have become an important part of our American life and culture were established. England's judicial system, for instance, formed the basis for American courts after Florida became an American territory.

England re-ceded Florida to Spain in 1783 and a new period of disorder and revolution began. Pirates infested the waters along the Florida coasts and at times occupied Fernandina and threatened to capture St. Augustine.

American settlers intrigued, sometimes with the not-too-hidden support of Washington, hoping to annex Florida to the United States.

Two revolutions, an Indian war and all kinds of troubles involving the British, runaway slaves, smugglers, filibusterers—and Napoleonic spies plagued the conscientious settlers, who were struggling to push back the wilderness and bring peace and order to Florida.

After Andrew Jackson had twice led an American army into Florida it was obvious that the area was like a ripe fruit ready to drop into the American government's lap.

Finally, Spain agreed to sell Florida, and in 1821 it was formally annexed to the United States.

Under the leadership of men like General Jackson, William P. DuVal and Richard Keith Call, counties were created; roads were constructed (including the Bellamy Road which ran from the St. Johns River to Pensacola); railroads, for the most part mule-drawn;

New Emergency Phone System Adopted By City

A new emergency phone system was turned over to the city of Coral Gables by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. Tuesday.

The system, which has been installed in 50 different locations, principally in the downtown area, replaces the old fire alarm system which was destroyed by hurricane Donna last fall.

Also put into use for the first time was a recently completed communications room at the Police Station which incorporates the emergency telephone system.

Main advantage of the new system is that it can be used for all types of emergency calls and will reduce the number of false alarms.

Chamber Looking For Work To Do

Members of the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce will be surveyed to determine plans for a program of work for the local Chamber.

Directors, meeting March 23, adopted suggestions drawn up

Kerdyk, Semple To Oppose Tax

Commissioner Frank Kerdyk and city attorney Ted Semple will be in Tallahassee next week to lobby to have the personal property tax dropped.

Kerdyk recently made a similar proposal to the City Commission for dropping the tax in the City, but no action had been taken on that proposal yet.

to accept a ticket, though he had parked by a meter and neglected to put money in it.

Campbell said he was courteous and tried to explain that he had to write the ticket because the meter flag was up.

The ticket-writers said a motorist's most common excuse in trying to evade getting a ticket is that he went for change to put in the meter.

But the ticket writers said they don't have any choice. They must write the ticket because the violation flag is up.

"I try to tell them that it isn't that I don't believe them," said Shirley, "but that there's nothing I can do about it."

by the Program of Work Committee, headed by chairman Ivan R. Cunningham.

Other members are Robert Searle, Dr. Richard Strain and Dan Ferber.

The survey is expected to be mailed in a few days to all chamber members.

Forty suggested activities will be voted on by individual members. These will be rated on the basis of "highest priority," important, "if budget permits," and "not a chamber function."

Among the proposals to be voted on are creation of a new public park in the McBride lot next to the Woolworth building; a new library; attraction of more white collar industry, a first class hotel and sponsorship of a "career day" for high school students.

Other subjects to be surveyed include continued study of state and national issues affecting business and work for sound legislation; continue "Action Course in Practical Politics"; publish a byers guide and seek an end to the inventory tax.
